Commentary

During the second quarter 2020, the Axiom International Equity Strategy ("Strategy") outperformed the MSCI ACWI ex USA Index ("Index") net of fees. The Strategy remains ahead of the benchmark on a net of fees basis over the 1-year, 3-year, 5-year, 10-year, and since inception periods.

Axiom's dynamic growth portfolios continued to strongly outperform as markets recovered this quarter after outperforming earlier this year during the dramatic market sell-off. Axiom's year-to-date performance builds on strong returns in 2019 and over rolling time periods. Stock selection continues to be the primary driver of our success with the contribution from stock selection accounting for the majority of Axiom's outperformance. We believe that generating excess returns from stock selection is more important than ever if investors are to achieve their investment objectives in a slow growing, geopolitically fractured, and COVID-19 challenged investment environment. Axiom's fundamental, forward looking, dynamic growth investment approach continues to deliver.

Eight of the 11 sectors were positive contributors to relative performance in the second quarter. The best performing sectors on a relative basis were information technology, led by Dutch companies Adyen and ASML, followed by strong stock selection in the consumer discretionary and staples sectors. Materials, due to a zero weight relative to the index, was a relative detractor for the quarter, along with the health care sector.

Japan was the top performing country on a relative basis, led by Kobe Bussan, a Japanese supermarket operator with a unique franchise model, and Lasertec, a Japanese company specializing in photomask inspection systems for semiconductor devices. Australia, South Korea and Denmark all detracted from relative performance during the quarter.

From an individual stock perspective, the best relative contributors for the quarter were Adyen, Lululemon, Kobe Bussan, JD.com, and Evolution Gaming. The largest detractors on a relative basis were SK Hynix, Roche, Novo Nordisk, Alibaba, and Airbus.

Dynamic growth stocks remain attractive with the equity risk premium at near multi-decade highs supporting the outlook for stock investors. We believe that growth stocks are trading at a justified premium as technological innovation, demographics, excess national debt, and de-globalization all combine to create a 'winner takes all' environment leaving a small minority of companies poised to capture most of the growth. COVID-19 has accelerated ongoing social and technology trends by several years in just a matter of weeks, reinforcing the superior outlook of the most compelling dynamic growth stocks. Axiom's seasoned, stable, and cohesive team continues to construct high conviction, risk aware dynamic growth portfolios. We leverage our proprietary investment tools to stay ahead of the curve uncovering and investing in companies that we believe will remain sustainable and compelling growth leaders.
